“ I used to work at the Payless on Meridian and would see him all the time, we always had a lovely chat talking about how he was still able to jump and all kinds of things even though he was up there in age. He was such a delightful man to talk to, always excited about everything including his sweets. I still remember how much he had bragged about his dad living a super long life and how he just knew he was gonna live super long too. He really was a great guy and I'm gonna miss him but will never ever forget him ❤️
