“ I worked with John for several years.
He was one of the guys you called when you were in trouble or over your head.
He was a guy you could count on.
Thanks, John.
Your work here is over.

“ When you met my brother you went wow and kept it to yourself. He had hidden talents you might say. We always had a bond the two of us and things we said no one else got. When he retired sometimes he would call late at night and we would solve World problems and our own at 3 am . I will always miss that and that cocky grin..

“ My brother was one of those people you look at with the wow word in your thoughts! He lived life with what we sometimes called the straw system . Living for moments whether they made you cry or laugh ,even fighting mad with a purpose to finish it with gusto ! And so he did till the end . Will always miss my 3 am phone calls about life..
